

Course Power Standards

Department: Science

Course: Biology

Instructors: Josh Heward, Tara Belnap

1. Students will understand the difference between examples and non-examples concepts that have been taught
2. Students will be able to plan and conduct a scientific experiment
3. Students will be able to evaluate scientifically related claims against available evidence.
4. Students will be able to cite sources in their scientific writing.
5. Students will understand the development of the modern evolutionary theory and how it shapes current biological research
6. Students will be able to develop and use classification systems
7. Students will be able to organize data and give an accurate visual representation
8. Students will be able to demonstrate values of scientific inquiry